International Seminar on Local Wisdom from Panji Era

in conjunction with

A celebration of Panji Culture

September 5-6, 2007
Tourism Campus, Merdeka University
MALANG 65116

Organized by:

Institute of Environmental Management and Technology

Background

The history of Panji has been long known as a legend throughout the islands of Indonesia and even other countries such as Malaysia, Cambodia, Myanmar and Thailand.

There have been indications that the Panji era existed during the 8—15 AD. A number of researchers have shown that the culture emerged during the era having great impact on the development of science, technology and art as well as social and economical growth.

Further research and studies related to the heritage of the Panji era are crucial in helping people to understand the relationships between culture and environment. The studies are also important especially to solve environmental problems and to achieve a sustainable future.

Objectives

The objective of the seminar are :

1. to explore the relationship between culture and environment for sustainable future
2. to discuss issues related to the evidence of the Panji era and its culture
3. to extract local wisdoms from the Panji era
4. to discuss ways to revitalize the wisdom into the current technology and management

Scope

Major topics of Seminar:

1. Humanities :
2. Science and technology: water management, soil conservation, traditional knowledge and technology

Submission of Paper

Abstracts of papers will be reviewed to be presented orally during the sessions. The committee reserves the right to make the final judgment of receiving or rejecting papers for the oral presentation. Authors which have rejected papers are asked to present their paper on posters. All the papers will be included in the seminar proceeding. Contributors are asked to submit the full paper during the first day of the seminars.

Paper should be typed in MS Word using Times New Roman 12 pt font, 1.5 space on A4 paper. The Presentation should be produced using MS Power Point.
